FROM

THE REV. J. HASTINGS, D.D.,

ST CYRUS, MONTROSE.

Scotland

Dear Sir

I have undertaken the editorship of a new Dictionary of Religion. It will contain articles on all the religions and on the subjects that belong to Religion. Space will be allowed for a satisfactory account of each subject. The publishers will be Messrs T. and T. Clark of Edinburgh.

I beg to ask if it is in your power to undertake the article on Muhammadanism. Or if you cannot undertake the whole of that subject, could you write on Early Muham? I should give you space and sufficient time. The remuneration will be £1 per page, and I shall furnish and pay a thoroughly competent translator. Prof. Noldeke of Strasbourg will write the article on the Religion of Arabia before Islam.

Yours very sincerely
James Hastings
